A WASHINGTON MONUMENT.

The proposal for a monument to Washington comes in good time, for this is a time in which there is need of revival of Americanism. It may be too early to suggest a site; but, as the North Side has the monuments of Grant and Lincoln and the South Side that of Douglas, it might be well if the West side had that of Washington. The de-bouché of Washington boulevard upon Garfield Park, which is the Central pleasure of West Town, would be peculiarly appropriate. A monument erected on that site would be visible for more than a mile from the east side, and for twice that distance on the west.

But the question of money comes before that of location. If the West Side wants the monument it ought to bid liberally for it. It is probable that if committees were formed and public meetings held a large sum could be collected in a short time. It may be taken for granted that subscriptions can be had from the patriotic in all parts of the city; for wherever the monument may be erected it will be one of the sights to which the attention of strangers will be directed, and one of the things in which the citizens at large will take pride.

Grant, Lincoln and Douglas have their monuments; Sheridan's memory is to be honored by a road which will be as splendid and as famous as the Roman Appian way, but Washington's name is connected in Chicago only with a boulevard on the West Side, a park on the South Side, and Washington square on the North Side. The proposition for a monument is timely.

—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

ECONOMY THAT IS NOT GOOD POLICY.

Another economical idea that has struck the legislature is the proposition of abolishing the State Weather Bureau. It is said that a bill will be introduced to this effect; or in the general appropriation bill no allowance will be made. The general Government furnishes a six-inch equatorial telescope, besides various other instruments for the use of the officer, and the State pays $250 a year toward the station, the money being used to purchase necessary apparatus, etc.

Mr. Friend, the observer, does not receive any pay for his services, notwithstanding he gives an hour or two a day of his time in taking the observations and giving them out to the public.

As long as the Government furnishes the most expensive part of the apparatus and Mr. Friend furnishes the time and the place to do his work in, free of expense, it would seem that the State could certainly afford to contribute a small cost. It may be true that the service does not help every part of the State, but as a matter of information as to the season's amount of moisture, drouths, comparisons of seasons probabilities, etc., it is certainly of more importance than generally considered; and the State receives a profitable return on the small amount invested.

THE CRETAN TROUBLE.

The people of Greece have urged, if not forced, their King to take an active step toward the liberation of the island of Crete from Turkish rule. Russia and England are busy with diplomatic measures, no doubt, in the hope of preventing a war in which probably all of Europe will take a hand. As yet, little is known of the real purpose of these two powers, but it will matter little whether the rest of Europe approve or disapprove of their action, for it will probably be the reform of the dismemberment of the Turkish Empire. Neither of these great powers care to take the initiative in disturbing the diplomatic relations existing between the countries of Europe, but it is believed neither are averse to Greece doing so. Greeks and Cretans are in earnest and the sympathy of all christians is with the Cretans who are struggling for independence, and if little Greece roasts Turkey the whole world will say Amen.

The incorporation measure relative to the town of Reno will come before the legislature during the coming week; and the delegation from Washoe county are anxious for all the information, suggestions, and matters proper in the case. It is their desire to act for the best interest of the town, and consequently they want the opinions of all interested. If anyone has a suggestion let it be communicated to the delegation at once and it will receive consideration.

President Cleveland has decided to live the life of a retired gentleman, and will not practice law. He may devote a part of his time in writing a book covering his public career from the date of his election as Mayor of Buffalo.

Heavy snow storms are raging in North Dakota and Colorado. Trains are late, and in some instances are blocked. A heavy thunder storm prevailed at Chicago yesterday morning, the lightning striking at several points in the city.

An explosion of natural gas in the press-room of the Chicago Chronicle yesterday morning injured six persons and caused a serious loss of property by fire.

Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, February 20.—Senator Cameron presented a resolution in the Senate to-day expressing sympathy with Greece. The resolution was agreed to.

Resolved, That the Senate of the United States being mindful of the sympathy for the United States expressed by the Greeks at the time of their war for independence, now extends a like sympathy to the Government of Greece with its intervention in behalf of the people of the island of Crete for the purpose of freeing them from the tyranny of foreign oppression and to restore peace with the blessings of Christian civilization to that oppressed nation.

Senator Gorman said to-day he would not press the arbitration treaty in opposition to the appropriation bill, and it looked as if all the time would be occupied by these bills. Other Republican leaders say they do not expect to see the treaty called up again this session.

House.

The House decided to discuss the general deficiency bill to-day. There was a spirited debate on the motion of Hopkins of Illinois to strike out the items of $12,000 to pay on account of members of the 53d Congress. The amount was withheld on account of absence.

Hopkins denied this was a plan to have a Republican Congress wash dirty linen for a Democratic Congress. A Democratic speaker, supported by a Democratic majority, made these selections in order to hold a quorum, and it desired to reverse their policy they should not apply to a Republican House at a time when they were complaining of a "billion dollar appropriation."

In the course of a long discussion, Crisp of Georgia, successor in Congress to Speaker Crisp, explained the course of his father as being in accordance with the interpretation of the law as given by the Judiciary Committee.

Hopkins was successful in the House by 115 to 55 in having the item stricken out.

COMMITTEE WORK.

The House Committee on Coinage to-day decided to report favorably on the Senate bill for an international monetary conference with amendments authorizing the President, if he saw fit, to seek an agreement by diplomatic negotiations instead of conference. Ten of the seventeen members of the committee were present, three Republicans, six Democrats and one Independent, eight of whom are silver men, and there was no dissent to report.

The Senate Committee on Appropriations has agreed to strike out the postoffice appropriation bill appropriating $171,238 for fast mail to the South. A motion was made by Pettigrew, who claimed the appropriation amounted to the payment for service which had been paid for already at exorbitant rates. He also entered a motion to reduce the rate of compensation for carrying mails to the extent of one-fifth of the present rate, which has not yet been acted upon.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Frank Kloss was sentenced to be hanged yesterday at San Francisco for the murder of William Deane.

The Big Black Diamond coal mine near Wilkesbarre, Pa., was destroyed by fire yesterday, throwing several hundred men and boys out of employment. Loss, $85,000.

Diphtheria Cure.

The testimony of a prominent physician:

FOUNTAIN CITY, Ind., June 17, 1895. This certifies that I have been using V. O. in my practice. I have never found any medical preparation in 46 years of practice that is calculated to do so much good in so wide a range of diseases and leave no after bad effects. In Diphtheria it has proved a perfect specific in my hands, and I had rather depend on it alone in that dreadful disease than the whole popular Materia Medica with that left out.

Indian Blankets.

Blankets collecting is one of the diversions of the officers' wives who follow their husbands' fortunes to western forts. In New Mexico among the Navajos these blankets are common products. The designs are original with each weaver and are interesting imprints of individual impressions. One displayed by an army woman, lately returned from a considerable stay at a fort near Santa Fe, has black trains of ours wandering over its red ground. The Indian who made it evidently admired the sweep of a railroad train and reproduced it so far as possible in the blanket. Another in the same collection has a queer mixed border of scrolls and figures without apparent relation and still jumbled together in a sort of harmony. This, the present owner relates, was 'admired by a friend of hers, and in consequence a request to duplicate it was made of its maker. But the old Navajo woman replied: 'A pappose of hers had died while the blanket was being wrought, and in her simple reasoning the two facts were effect and cause. The pattern had bewitched the baby, and no inducement could coax a repetition of the work.'—New York Post.

A Judge of English on the Bench.

James Lane Allen of the Chicago bar is one of the most polished of men. A public reader, an author of charming sketches, a lover of books, he has color of titles to position in the ranks of the literati. One time he was arguing a case before Judge Gary previous to that jurist's elevation to the appellate bench and came to a point which turned on the construction of a sentence. Mr. Allen was satisfied his reading of the sentence was right and was amazed when Judge Gary held against him. The snarling of men, he said, "But, if the court please!"—and paused, puzzled for a fitting statement. Then his temper got the better of him, and he went on, "If the court please, it may be the court knows more law than I do, but I really think I am the better judge of English language." "That may be," said Judge Gary mildly, "but I do not see what bearing it has on this case. I am on the bench and you are not."

And the court's English stood.—Chicago Post.

Viper's Blood.

The opinion has prevailed among scientists that the viper which resists inoculations of its own venom was exempt because it was accustomed to the poison. They have found that the blood contains the same poisonous qualities as the venom itself and from this drew the conclusion. But it has been discovered that in addition to the poison the blood contains another substance that neutralizes the toxic principle. To ascertain the effects of heat upon the poison a portion of viper's blood was heated to 258° C. and maintained at this temperature for a quarter of an hour. Guinea pigs inoculated with this blood not only did not die, but were cured of the disease. The viper's blood, which was not of that employed, caused instant death.—New York Ledger.

The Spanish Bay.

Few people fully appreciate the great size of the Chesapeake bay. It is the largest indentation on the Atlantic coast, and it has often been called the Mediterranean of America. On its bosom the waters of the world could easily float. It is 250 miles long, and in some places it is 40 miles broad. It has an area of over 4,000 square miles, and it shoots off into great rivers with an aggregate length of thousands of miles.—Baltimore American.

At 3:30 the Senate adjourned until Tuesday next at the usual hour—11 A. M. Washington's birthday occurs on Monday.

Incorporation.

At a meeting of the citizens of Reno at the court-house last evening, called for the purpose of taking action on the Reno incorporation bill now pending in the Legislature, H. H. Beck was elected Chairman and Mr. Lewis Secretary.

Chairman Beck explained the objects for which the meeting was called.

After speeches by Messrs. R. L. Fulton, Judge Cheney, E. R. Dodge and others, on motion of Judge Cheney the following resolution was adopted unanimously:

"Resolved, That a committee of twelve be appointed to take such steps as in their judgment are necessary to secure such legislation as will give effect to the wishes of the people of Reno upon the subject of incorporation and municipal ownership of a water supply, as expressed at the last election."

The following gentlemen were elected as the committee: R. L. Fulton, Morris Sheeline, J. F. Aitken, Henry Rhue, Allen C. Bragg, C. E. Clough, T. V. Julian, A. G. Fletcher, H. J. Crampton, R. F. Osburn, E. D. Kelley and R. Ryland.

Subsequently H. H. Beck was added to the Committee.

The opinion seemed to be general that a committee of citizens should be sent to Carson to co-operate with our legislative delegation in procuring an act of incorporation.

Should a Riot Occur Who Would Pay the Expense?

Julian, Fitzsimmons' manager, is credited with the following in an Associated Press dispatch: "I have heard from the most reliable sources that there is a movement on foot on the part of the other crowd to pack the ringside with a 'push' who will break through the ropes if it becomes necessary to save Corbett, but you can understand distinctly now that they will never do it, for I have taken care to prepare for just such an emergency by sending for a 'push' of my own, and you will find the toughest lot of citizens from New Orleans and Texas near Fitzsimmons' corner that ever landed in this State, and Corbett's gang will have a lovely time getting into that ring."

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for every season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness, yield to Electric Bitters. Fifty cents and $1 per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

The Bloomers.

The Clunie Opera House was crowded last night to witness the first performance here of the Bloomer Minstrels and Extravaganza Company. In the forenoon, the company headed by a brass band which accompanies it, paraded the business streets and attracted much attention. The entertainment last evening opened with a minstrel first part, with Comedian Bird in the chair of the interlocutor, and a very clever middleman he is; original, crisp, and witty, and a born comedy actor. William Marry, Mabel Carleton, W. N. Miller, James Mackin, George A. Bird, and Minnie Hoff were the minstrel vocalists. The conclusion introduced the "Officer Porter" Quartet, composed of Carleton Hoff, Bird and Britton, and the wind-up was a burlesque, "Elephantus Africanus." In the first part, the women all appeared in neat bloomer suits of many colors and tints. Then came the French folly dancers, the Depeu sisters, and clever dancers they are, original and sensational. W. N. Miller then gave the baritone solo, "A Son of the Desert I am." The Amazon march was a very pretty feature and very nicely executed by the women under the direction of Lizzie Bird. George Bird, in a monologue, "The Chinese Ambassador," gave an act that has rarely, if ever, been equaled here in character and grotesque impersonation. The Chinaman was simply "immense." The audience plainly manifested that it would not weary of Bird's cleverness and wit. Minnie Hoff, the favorite contralto, appeared in vocal selections. Marry and Mackin, in the oddest and merriest singing and dancing act, carried the house by storm. The audience recalled them over and over again, until they had to beg to be excused from further responses. They are comedians and character actors of rare mettle. The entertainment concluded with a burlesque on "Pinocchio," in which the entire company appeared. It is an extravagant and lively bit of burlesque, but preserving several of the musical gems of the opera. The performance as a whole is of a light vaudeville character, rapid, novel and evidently pleasing to the people.

Fitzsimmons as a Smithy.

Robert Fitzsimmons took a stroll about town yesterday accompanied by his manager, Martin Julian, also the big dog which is his constant companion. He dropped into C. P. Ferrel's horse-shoeing shop and after a moment's conversation with the proprietor, donned the smithy's apron and without ceremony grabbed the handle of the bellows, blew up the fire, selected a piece of iron and in less time than it takes to tell it turned a couple of horse shoes in a workmanlike manner. He left one with Mr. Ferrel as a souvenir and took the other to District Attorney Julian's office and presented it to him at the same time complimenting him for taking the stand that he had on the $1,000 license for fistic exhibitions and his promptness in enforcing the late law. Those who met him say that he is a very agreeable gentleman and is superior in point of address and general appearance to Corbett. He made many friends during his short stay here and at his departure on the local for Carson in the afternoon, two or three hundred people were at the depot to see him off.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Diamond Lake, Mich., we are permitted to take this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at River Junction she was brought down with pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store. Regular size, 50 cts. and $1.

Joe McCormick shipped two cars of cattle to McCormick Bros., Stockton, and four cars to Gerlach, Wagner & Co., Lathrop.

Robert Fitzsimmons arrived on the west-bound yesterday morning and continued on to Carson in the afternoon.

The new arrivals at Carson are enjoying, or pretending to enjoy, the romance and novelty of sleighing, but are not overpleased with the storm.

L. D. Folsom has just received a large invoice of fresh crackers. Lady-fingers, jelly and Graham wafers are specialties; also a fine assortment of soda and oyster crackers.

Corbett boxed and wrestled with his trainer at the Carson opera house on Friday before a few invited guests, among whom was the Governor and several members of the Legislature.

Corbett and his trainers went into his quarters at Shaw's Springs yesterday to remain until the 17th of March. Fitzsimmons and his men immediately on their arrival at Carson were driven to Cooks ranch, where he will remain.

Attention is hereby directed to John Sanderland's ad. in another column, wherein he tells you he has made a reduction 20 per cent in the price of goods of all kinds. Mr. Sanderland's "word is his bond," you can depend on it. His goods are all of the latest styles and of the very best varieties.

Reno Will No Doubt Have Her Share.

In view of the large crowd anticipated by the railroad companies as well as the managers of the glove contest at Carson next month, it may be expected that Reno will be called upon to accommodate many of the visitors. If the number of people visit the State that have been estimated it will simply be impossible for them to take care of them all. This being the case, and Reno being on the line of travel and less than an hour's ride from Carson, she may expect a goodly share of those who are coming to the fight.

Visitors can arrive here a day or two before the date set and can visit Carson, see the fight and return here the same evening, thereby avoiding the crush and annoyance of finding accommodations. Already letters have been received looking to this arrangement and no doubt many will make their headquarters in Reno.

For Good Books.

A number of the ladies of Reno have kindly volunteered to give a series of readings at the Young Men's Christian Association rooms for the purpose of securing books for the library. These readings will be given every Wednesday evening until notice. The price of admission (ten cents) is small, and all who are interested in this work should attend. The library committee will be pleased to receive donations of good books for the library. Anyone wishing to contribute in this way is requested to confer with the Secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association.

More

Medicinal value in a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla than in any other preparation. More skill is required, more care taken, more expense incurred in its manufacture. It costs the proprietor and the dealer but it costs the consumer less, as he gets more doses for his money. More curative power is secured by its peculiar combination, proportion and process, which make it peculiar to itself. More people are employed and more space occupied in its Laboratory than any other. More wonderful cures effected and more testimonials received than by any other. More sales and more increase year by year are reported by druggists. More people are taking Hood's Sarsaparilla today than any other, and more are taking it today than ever before. More and still more reasons might be given why you should take
